

ELECTRO-MECHANICAL BOX BUILDS

CDM offers complete box build capabilities for a wide variety of commercial, military, medical and industrial applications, with the following advantages:

- Production capacity for quantities ranging from prototype to high volume manufacturing
- Build-to-print manufacturing process design for each project
- Certified mechanical & electrical engineers on staff to provide design support
- ISO-based quality program provides multiple in-process inspections and complete final testing
- Extensive, traceable component-level inventory provides a single-source solution and cost containment
- Superior quality turnkey solutions assembled by experienced, certified technicians

